

HAVE YOU BEEN DIAGNOSED WITH

CROHN'S DISEASE?

A chronic inflammatory disease of the GI tract. It primarily affects the ileum (last part of the small intestines), colon and rectum. It can cause ulcerations in the bowel and lead to complications such as bowel obstruction or perforation. Symptoms are typically abdominal pain, diarrhea, weight loss, and bleeding.

To learn more contact us at 800-295-5515